Baidu Appoints Peng Ye as Chief Operating Officer

BEIJING, April 2, 2008 /Xinhua—PRNewswire/ — Baidu.com, Inc. (Nasdaq: BIDU — News), the leading Chinese language Internet search provider, today announced the appointment of Mr. Peng Ye as chief operating officer, effective April 25th, 2008.

“We are pleased to have Mr. Peng Ye joining us as chief operating officer,” said Robin Li, Baidu’s chairman and chief executive officer. “With his years and wide range of experiences in sales, marketing and business operations management, as well as software development in the IT and telecom industries, Peng is a strategic addition to our management team. We are confident that Peng will make significant contributions to Baidu’s future as we extend our leadership position in the Chinese language Internet search market and broaden our product and services offerings to new and existing users.”

Peng Ye joins Baidu from Apple China, where he served as country general manager. In that role, Ye oversaw all business operations for Apple China. Prior to that, Ye worked for SatCom AG as managing director and for Motorola Mobile Business North Asia as vice president of Asia Pacific and general manager of New Wireless Carrier Operations. Ye also served Nortel China and Nortel Europe for seven years in several senior management and product development positions.

Ye holds a Ph.D in Information and Software Engineering from the University of Ulster in the UK, an EMBA from China Europe International Business School, a Master of Information System Engineering from the National University of Defense Technology in China and a Bachelor of Computer Communications from Nanjing University of Post and Telecommunications in China.
